

Macrame Plant Holder

1) Separate your strands into pairs.

2) Tie a simple knot in each pair of strands. Make sure your knots are all the same distance from the ring, about 2 inches from the ring.

3) Lay your plant holder flat and separate your strands (I put the ring under something heavier to hold it in-place, like a coffee cup or a book). Match one strand from each pair with a strand from the pair next to it.

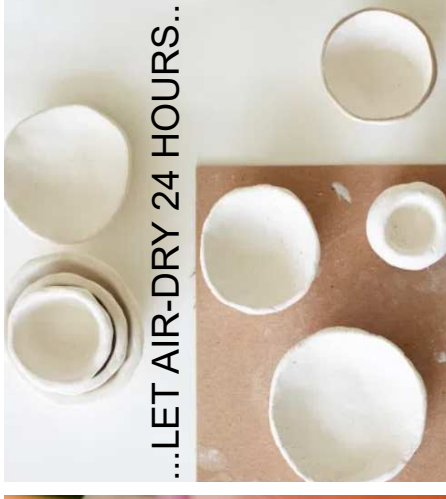

4) Tie another knot in each new pair about 3 inches down from the first knot.

5) Tie another knot in each new pair 1-2 inches down from the first knot, repeat 2 more times.

6) Then gather all the strands together below the last knots and tie all in a single knot. Trim the ends as long or short as you'd like.
